Healthcare: PCP for Registered Nurses (Diploma)

Reskill your competencies to take on new jobs

What is it?

Overview of Programme

The Professional Conversion Programme for Registered Nurses (Diploma) [PCP-RN (Diploma)] helps and supports mid-career Professionals, Managers, Executives and Technicians (PMETs) in acquiring relevant training to be Registered Nurses.

The PCP-RN (Diploma) is one of the mid-career conversion programmes under the Healthcare PCP umbrella that is offered by WSG, in conjunction with Ministry of Health (MOH) and supported by MOH Holdings.

Funding will be provided by WSG, MOH and a co-sponsoring organisation for successful candidates to undergo the 2-year Diploma in Nursing (Accelerated) at Nanyang Polytechnic (NYP) for the April intake and Ngee Ann Polytechnic (NP) for the October intake.

Job Description and Remuneration

The general roles of Nurses include assessing patients' physical and mental health, performing clinical procedures, helping patients improve or maintain their health and educating patients and their families on health matters. They work alongside a team of professionals to provide safe and smooth delivery of patient care every day. Thus, teamwork, communication skills and attention to details are some of the key qualities
